Chimney Vent Design

stimulates ventilating air currents
... eliminates leakage

Air currents move upward and outward to dissipate heat.

Sheltered vents permit freedom of ventilation but keep out bad weather.

● Chimney Vent design, a special feature of Shieldall awnings, brings you added comfort and satisfaction during the hotter months!

Channels in the interlocking louver sections conduct air currents upward to sheltered vents that deflect heat away from the house.

Stimulating breezes flow past your window all summer long and actually DRAW heat out of your house! There are no drafts to cause colds, yet room temperatures remain pleasantly relaxing.

~~no more...~~

Seasonal installations! Shieldall awnings (easy to install . . . easy to take down) are permanent fixtures that never need be removed or stored.

Maintenance or Replacements! Lifetime performance of Shieldall awnings saves you money and time. There are no moving parts to get out of order and none of the repair bills which always were expected with old style awnings.

Worry over weather! Shieldall awnings constantly protect your home and belongings against sun damage and sudden storms of wind, rain, sleet and snow.
